ROLAND was originally thought as additional storage and ideal expansion to EVA, but it can also serve as autonomous piece of furniture in the entrance area, in the living room as room divider, as sideboard, as storage for documents in the office or as cupboard in the bedroom.

Large modules are manufactured according to the EVA module system; smaller elements are produced in one piece.

The materials available are birch plywood panels, either oil-impregnated or varnished in color and they are laminated with a melamine resin coat (a light-transmissive tinted surface which emphasizes the grain of the wood, spotless and odorless, easy to clean, produced in Finland). For the standard colors see below, more colors can be delivered on demand.

The container on wheels is available in different lengths. It can be flexibly designed based on the 3 different widths of the modular units. We also manufacture custom-made modules.
